TELEGRAPHIC.

WINNIPEG, November 10.

Van Horne passed through Winnipeg to-day.

Great strikes have occurred in New Orleans.

Hon. Geo. Foster spoke at the Lord Mayor of London's banquet last night.

It is likely that Mayor Bell will get the conservative nomination for Eastern Assiniboia.

Negotiations between the trade delegates of Canada and Newfoundland have commenced.

The French league of Quebec has entered a protest against the Manitoba school law, and calls on the conservative party to protect the minority.

The presidential election resulted in a sweeping victory for the democrats. Cleveland will have 278 votes in the electoral college. The democrats also carry the house of representatives and likely the senate. The democrats carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois and probably Ohio. The victory is complete all along the line. McKinlay got a knock out blow.

The Free Press announces to-day that lieutenant governor Royal has been instructed from Ottawa to take action with regard to the Northwest assembly trouble, immediately after the Wallace election on Saturday. If Insinger is elected the assembly will be called for the despatch of business, as that would place the Cayley executive in a minority of two. If McNutt is elected it is understood that His Honor will dissolve the house and there will be a general election in the Territories.

LOCAL.

No ice in the river yet.

WEATHER fine and roads drying up but rough.

THE ferry is still running without obstruction. This is somewhat later than usual.

THE brick work of the new government buildings is completed and the rafters are being put on.

E. A. GLOBENSKY, of St. Eustache, Quebec, arrived on Monday looking up a location for a thoroughbred stock ranch.

WHAT has become of those fine dry falls for which the Northwest is noted? They are lost from this part of the country.

CARPENTER & VAUDIN are erecting a store building on Fraser Avenue, in rear of the H. B. Co.'s store, 18x24, 2 stories, frame. F. A. Osborne, contractor.

FITZGERALD & LUCAS sold 3,000 acres of C. P. R. land in the Beaver lake country to a party of eight Washington men, who left for home on Tuesday's train.

R. L. ALEXANDER, intelligence officer to the Edmonton land office, left for Moose Jaw on Tuesday's train to return with his family. He has leased the dwelling recently occupied by F. H. Peters.

ON Monday there was snow on the ground from Innisfail to Wetaskawin. From the latter place to Leduc, 20 miles south of Edmonton the ground was nearly white from the light fall of Saturday night.

W. BRUNELLE laid an offer before the town council last night to build a frost proof tank, holding 200 barrels of water, at any point in the town, to be kept full for use in case of fire, and in return asked the exclusive privilege of supplying the town with water for two years, after the water licenses at present in force have expired. He offers to put up bonds for the fulfillment of his contract and to agree upon a tariff of charges.

A SNOW by-law was introduced at last night's council meeting and read a first time.

JAS. PETTY is erecting a cottage on Fraser Avenue, east side. J. G. Clelland, contractor.

MAYOR McCauley and councillors Daly and Goodridge will go to Calgary, on to-morrow's train, to attend the banquet in honor of the new minister of interior.

THANKSGIVING service to-day in the Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches in town. Places of business were generally closed, but building went on as usual.

THE train, which leaves Edmonton on Tuesday, runs to Macleod and back to Calgary on Wednesday, and the train, which leaves Edmonton on Friday, runs to Macleod and back to Calgary on Saturday.

A SMALL amount of platinum has been mined on the Saskatchewan this year as usual. In view of the constantly increasing value of this metal it is strange that more attention is not paid to it by the miners.

THE conservative Moosomin Courier savagely attacks J. R. Neff, M. L. A., in his prospective candidacy for the conservative nomination for the commons for Eastern Assiniboia. Its course appears to be dictated by pure spite.

THE annual winter excursions of the C. P. R. commence on November 28. Tickets will be on sale from that date until December 31st at the same rates as last year. The rate from Edmonton to all points in Ontario and return is $69.60.

THE advocates composing the Edmonton Bar are asking for incorporation as the Edmonton Law Society, with Geo. A. Watson as president, N. D. Beck, vice-president and S. S. Taylor, secretary treasurer. Among its purposes is that of establishing of a general law library in Edmonton.

THRESHERS are charging 3 cents a bushel for oats and 4 cents for barley and wheat. A thresher purchased recently by a joint stock company of farmers known as "The Poplar Lake Thresher Company," in connection with the patrons of industry, is threshing for members of that society at 2 cents for oats and 3 cents for wheat and barley.

TAYLOR & TAYLOR, barristers, were notified last week, by the militia department, that scrip had been granted to the following members of the mounted force known as Steele's scouts, which was attached to General Strange's force in 1885: Fred. Rowland, Jas. Rowland, W. Rowland, W. Chamberlayne, N. P. Nelsen, J. Calder, George Beatty, John Whitford, G. M. Steele, R. E. Steele and A. Whitford. J. Fraser and J. Sinclair were refused on the ground that they were pilots, not scouts, and A. McNicol, on the ground that he had already received military bounty.

Free Press; The Estevan coal was being tested at the city hall yesterday, and so far has proved perfectly satisfactory. It throws out a good heat and it is not consumed over rapidly.

Calgary Herald: We understand that strenuous efforts are being made by the conservatives of the Edmonton district to get a first-class paper started in that town, and that the undertaking has already assumed definite shape. A good newspaper conducted on the rational lines of Northwest conservatism will supply a long-felt want in that section, and be a means of advertising its wonderful inducements to settlers to the outside world. We hope to see the newcomer make its bow without delay.

Northwest Farmer: "It seems to me that, so far as 10 years experience can be relied upon, the man who goes freely into grain growing in the best agricultural districts of the foothills of the Rockies would be making a very hazardous venture. There is plenty of good soil, but drouth, hail and frost are too familiar. But if that country is inferior to the country between Regina and the Red River as a farming country, the cause is all the other way when stock raising is concerned. I have not seen better finished cattle in the old country auction marts than could be picked from among the lots of grazing stock that their owners managed to drive into the show grounds at Davisburg on September 27th, when every bite of their pasture looked as dry as it could be in midwinter. And I have not in ten years seen as many stall-fed cattle in Manitoba that would compare in condition and quality with the grade and thoroughbred cattle driven in from the pastures round the junction of the Bow and High rivers. These pastures keep up their nutritive powers all winter, and can always be depended on if the stock raised on them can only get at them through the crusts of ice that form on the snow after a chinook wind has blown over them. But though the country is, and, I think, always must be, much more a stock than a farming country, I believe it would be a very great loss if in such districts as I visited a fair proportion of cultivation is not kept up."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOVEMBER 10, 1892

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Although Canadians are not directly interested in the result of the presidential election in the United States, they have a very great indirect interest. Situated as they are close to and in close communication with a nation of 60 million people along their whole frontier, the question of the policy likely to be pursued towards their country by the government of their great neighbor is of serious moment, and as that policy is subject to change with each change of president we have a definite interest in the result of the election of Tuesday—not as to whether Harrison or Cleveland is to be president, or whether democrats or republicans are to wallow in the spoils of office, but as to whether there is to be a policy of aggression or reciprocity pursued regarding Canada. Unfortunately Canada has very little choice between the two candidates. When Cleveland was president before he threatened commercial war upon Canada to gratify the jingo element of the great democracy, and was beaten at the polls, as he deserved to be, either for his pains or in spite of them. On Harrison's assuming office he seemed to feel in duty bound to go further than did Cleveland in the same direction, and did so with the help of his two assistants, Blaine and McKinlay. And his defeat is doubtless due to this line of his policy more than to any other; not that the people of the United States had or have any sympathy with or for Canada, but because the policy which was shaped to cut abroad cut more deeply at home, and the people voted against McKinlay's tariff and Blaine's foreign aggression, not to save or help their neighbors or rivals, but to save and help themselves. The fact is that the millionaire has become the great evil of the United States. He took his rise during the civil war, grew rapidly under the tariff rendered necessary by it, and reached his crowning period of opulence and power through the railway expansion which the settlement of vast areas of new country has made possible and profitable during that period. From the boards of school trustees to the halls of congress at Washington, legislation is under his control and is shaped in his interest. Given an inch he takes an ell, and the war tariff, a necessity of terrible and trying circumstances, was a trifle compared with the McKinlay bill, passed when the necessity for such a tariff had ceased, but when the millionaire had become powerful enough in the legislature as well as the money market to have what he pleased. The McKinlay bill, under pretext of being a slap at foreign countries, particularly Canada, ground the faces of the poor for the benefit of the rich. The like was the case in regard to retaliation on Canadian railways and canals. While attacking Canada it also picked the pocket of the United States consumer, who benefitted by railway competition, for the benefit of the millionaire bond holder to whom the shutting out of Canadian competition meant increased dividends. The defeat of the republicans is not so much an endorsement of Cleveland or the democratic party as it is a protest by millions of the people of the United States against being robbed under one pretext or another for the benefit of a few hundreds or even thousands who already have more wealth than they know how to use. Cleveland's declaration for tariff reform set over against McKinlay's republican policy of protection run mad, decided the election, and with that decision most Canadians will heartily agree.

The Beaver lake mail, Logan postoffice, leaves Fort Saskatchewan once a month.

Moosomin Journal: "The present number of the Journal will be the last one issued in its present form. We are very sorry to make this announcement; but owing to the large number of unpaid subscriptions, and the fact that it costs more than one dollar per year per copy to produce a paper of this size weekly, we have decided to incur no further loss by continuing to publish." The Courier and Journal will be amalgamated under a new company to be called "The Moosomin Printing and Publishing Company," thus following the example of Prince Albert in amalgamating its two papers. The Lethbridge News, which started a semi-weekly last year, is now issuing weekly. The Regina Standard from a daily has become a weekly. The Calgary Herald is going through another of its frequent changes of ownership. There is food for reflection in these facts for the enterprising gentlemen mentioned by the Herald who propose establishing a newspaper in Edmonton. The fact is that in the Northwest, as in any new country, the tendency is to overdo the newspaper business. To start papers for the purpose of booming the locality, or the party or the person, and then tire of supporting them. A newspaper can only be profitable where there is a large population to patronize it. No sufficient population exists as yet in any part of the Northwest to enable a newspaper to be published at a profit at the same rates and under the same conditions as in the east. And when men put their money into a paper in the Northwest, on the basis of the rates prevailing here, leaving out of the calculation the lack of population, they simply get left. Enterprise is a good thing, but unless enterprise is guided by judgment it is usually called by another name.

TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to on Friday, November 11th, for the cutting out of a roadway, 30 feet wide, on the road allowance on the north side sections 8 and 7, township 51, range 24 and sections 12, 11 and 10 township 51, range 25, between the Black Mud and White Mud creeks. Particulars on application to the undersigned. FRANK OLIVER.

TRAIN SERVICE.

Monday's train went out on Tuesday morning instead of Wednesday morning as has been the rule hitherto. The change from Wednesday to Tuesday has been made in order to enable the train, which comes to Edmonton, to serve the Macleod branch as well. The change in time of departure is a great drawback to business, as it is now impossible to answer a Monday letter until Friday. The change is also certain to have a serious effect on travel over the road. Now a trip to Edmonton means either five or six days out from Calgary if the traveller desires to see the country, or do any business, when formerly a person coming on Monday's train had a full day in Edmonton. That this advantage was appreciated was shown by the much heavier travel on Monday than on Thursday. If passenger and freight traffic on the road had been decreasing a reduction in the accommodation might have been expected, but with both branches of business largely increasing, it is false economy that reduces the accommodation. For the past month there has been serious delay of Edmonton freight at Calgary on account of insufficient power, and it was confidently expected that instead of a reduction there would have been an increase of accommodation to at least three trains a week. This country has scarcely yet reached a pitch of development that will permit of cheese paring economy being exercised to advantage. When the country is developing is the time to assist its development by a progressive policy. Economy exercised too soon is likely to turn out the greatest waste.

The commission appointed by the Canadian government to enquire into the liquor traffic has held sittings in Winnipeg, Regina and Prince Albert. The commissioners are, Judge McDonald and Rev. Dr. McLeod. As the evidence given was on matters of opinion rather than matters of fact, it was not very conclusive. To a person having a knowledge of the witnesses it seems strange that so many more men who, from their business interests would naturally favor the traffic should be called than those who, having no such interest, would be likely to give unprejudiced testimony. The general conclusion to be arrived at from the evidence as to matters of fact is that prohibition was beneficially, although loosely, enforced up to the issue of beer licenses. That after they were issued there was no practical attempt at prohibition. That there was a very considerable increase in the consumption of intoxicants under a beer license, and a still further increase under the present license law. The chief divergence of opinion was as to whether prohibition could or could not be enforced in the present condition of the country. No evidence appears to have been taken as to the actual results of the traffic in the Territories.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The following party of land prospectors from Washington and Dakota left Calgary for Edmonton on Monday's train, conducted by Jas. Forrest, of Fitzgerald & Lucas' office, Calgary. About fourteen got off at Lacombe and about fourteen more at Wetaskawin, who will come to Edmonton by next train: F. M. Hardisty, Pullman; M. F. Johnstone, Uniontown; A. C. Moore, Palouse; A. Overbye, Garfield; H. Thompson, Elberton; John Elman, Conrad Diethelm, J. B. Ficker, Chas. Cunce, Gerrard Yunc, Adam Bocesenele, Uniontown; Ernest Johnstone, Fairfield; Fred. Harrison, Spokane; M. H. Morris, Henry Ference, Ping; all of Washington. H. Riester, Sublimity, Oregon; G. N. Hallister, Genesee, Idaho; H. L. Owen, Jessop, Nebraska; H. F. Smith, Washington, Indiana; Adolphe Reborne, wife and six children, Allandale; F. Millet, Terrebonne, Minnesota; Ben. Embler, Gratan, South Dakota; Alf. Donnelly, Lewis, Vamiler, Thos. Perry, Auburn; John Rick, Steven Donnelly, Grafton, North Dakota; John Benson, Jas. L. Benson, Crystal, North Dakota. The members of the party were all well satisfied with the appearance of the country on the way up. Those who come from Washington on representations made by Mr. Fitzgerald, of Fitzgerald & Lucas, were unanimous in saying that the country had been correctly represented by Mr. Fitzgerald, except that he had under rather than over estimated the advantages offered. A party of 27 to 30 are now in Calgary to come north on to-day's train, and thirty more are expected to arrive on the 11th. The link of steamboating on the way from Spokane to Edmonton is the one drawback to still larger numbers of prospectors coming. An arrangement is likely to be effected soon whereby the Galt line from Great Falls to Lethbridge and Dunmore will be used, giving an all rail route, but with several changes of cars. The reason of the sudden movement from Washington was before stated in the BULLETIN, that the great rush of people to that state in recent years has forced the value of the comparatively small quantity of land available up to a figure at which people can sell out to good advantage; being worth $5 to $8 an acre to rent and $40 to $50 an acre for sale. In the Edmonton district they see a better country than Washington, in which they can purchase land at $3 an acre, or get it for nothing by homesteading, and they realize the possibilities of such a region more quickly and fully than people who have had a less fortunate experience. It is expected that next season will see the removal of 5,000 people from the states of Washington and Idaho to the Edmonton district.

ST. ALBERT.

On Friday last, 4th inst., was the pastoral feast of His Lordship Bishop Grandin. On the eve of the holiday the sisters Faithful Companions of Jesus, of Edmonton, went to St. Albert with several of the pupils of their convent and presented His Lordship with two addresses, one in English, by Miss A. Roy, and one in French, by Master Brissette. The pupils of St. Albert convent also presented two addresses. On Friday His Lordship was serenaded by the Edmonton brass band, who also presented an address. In the evening a very interesting entertainment was given, comprising dramas, music and songs. The violin and piano duets by Sergeant Purchis and Miss Larocque were particularly good. At the opening of the entertainment A. Prince, M. L. A., presented His Lordship, in the name of all the Roman Catholics of the surroundings of St. Albert, with an address and a purse of $60 in gold.
